

$1.00 UMBRELLAS FOR 69c $3.00 SILK UMBRELLAS FOR $2.19

Saturday morning we put on sale for this one day two of the best lots of Umbrellas we have seen in a long time.

AT 69c a seven rib, steel rod Umbrella, with a covering of fine, fast black English mercerized twill with tape edges, a case and tassel with every one. The handles are assorted, hardly two alike—imported congo, plain sticks with tops of silverine and gun metal; also pretty horn handles. Ordinarily the above would not sell for less than $1.00.

AT $2.19 a colored all silk serge with a wide tape edge—this is one of the most, if not the most, satisfactory silk put into an umbrella. They have seven ribs, a big silk tassel and silk case and make a small, dainty roll. The handles are straight boxwood, such as go onto our three and four dollar Silk Umbrellas and Parasols. The colors are blue, red and green. This Umbrella (or Parasol) is as good as the best $3.00 Parasol we put over our counters.

There is a "Tense Talk on Prices" in A. A. Smith & Brothers' adv. to-day on page 5. This talk is made up of facts, not empty "hot air." If you care to know some facts—one being that prices talk—then read the adv. referred to.

When in need of linoleums, matting, art squares, lace curtains, portieres, rug, "Monday goods," ironing boards, etc., it will pay you to stop over to Sadler & Dawson's, 24 Elm street. The "Daisies" and the "Dandelions"—a battle of the flowers—crossed bats at the Berlin street grounds for several innings yesterday afternoon. Carson and Craig were the battery for the Dandelions and pulled their team to victory by the score of 12 to 11. Stewart was on the firing line for the Daisies with Soldini acting as receiver. There was no real excuse for the game to be played, except that it was too hot to work and just right to play ball. It has not yet been decided just when the next war of flowers will be waged; but probably not until some time next January on the ice, as the posies were not really pleased with playing in the hot sun yesterday.
